Recirculated Draft Program Environmental Impact Report for the General Plan 2025 I

SCH Number: 2004021108

Type: EIR - Draft EIR

Project Description

In November 2004, the City of Riverside circulated a Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) for the General Plan, updates to the Z Subdivision Code, the Magnolia Avenue Specific Plan, and the Citywide Design and Sign Guidelines. In the process of reviewing the DEIR received on the previously circulated DEIR, the City determined to recirculate the DEIR pursuant to Section 15088.5 of the California Environmental Quality Act Guidelines. This recirculated EIR includes all of the changes to the documents recommended by the City Council at the March 2005 City Council hearing, updated information where available, information provided in response to comments and an amendment to the DEIR for consistency with the proposed Noise Element and State regulations.

Metal fans get their money's worth

OZZFEST: Free tickets had turned the annual hard rock concert into a middle-of-the-road show.

BY ROBERT KREUTZER
SPECIAL TO THE PRESS-ENTERPRISE

DEVORE — Maybe a paid Ozfest is better than a free one.

The heavy metal road show, which made its annual stop Saturday at the Hyundai Pavilion of Glen Helen, is one of rock's top-grossing tours. This year, tickets were distributed free over the Internet. The result was a distinctly different feel.

It's good that someone actually tried to stage something like this minus the ticket costs, particularly someone with the stature of Ozzy and Sharon Osbourne. Many artists have complained that tickets are getting so expensive that their fans can't afford the concerts.

But based on Saturday's show, free admission might not be the answer. It could be a variety of factors, but the whole experience seemed muted. Excitement and energy from fans seemed diminished.

Maybe we're always more excited about whatever costs us a chunk of change than we are to get for free. At the main stage there seemed to be an increased number of people involuntarily shown the door by security, so maybe money helps keep out some of the riffraff.

Ozfest always has presented a who's who of hard rock, but there were fewer big names this year. Still, Ozzy, Static X, Lamb of God, Lordi and Hatebreed aren't exactly break-in acts.

Osbourne deviated zero from his usual set, singing mostly his solo standards plus a scattering of Black Sabbath tunes. Osbourne recapped all usual Ozzyisms — the funny, if vulgar computer-generated intro video; the constant exhortations of "you're not wild enough"; and the long guitar solos from Zakk Wylde. This doesn't mean it wasn't a good set — it was a lot of fun and Osbourne was in good form — but there was nothing new.

Static X emerged as the real stars this year. The industrial band expertly combined voluminous guitars, pulsating electro-beats, memorable riffs and a band tightness and zeal that made its set pretty close to flawless. Guitarist Koichi Fukuda has rejoined the band and clearly boosted the energy and music.

If theatrical rockers Lordi didn't quite hit a home run, their set was an easy stand-up double. The monster makeup, prodigious pyrotechnics and '80s-style hard rock helped the Finnish band launch a good start for the main-stage bands. At times, the band sounded a little raggedy, but all was forgiven when it finished with a rousing take on "Hard Rock Helljahaj."

Lamb of God preceded Ozzy with a set of uncompromising thrash. The sheer power of its music was compelling, but the sameness of the material made the set feel longer than its allotted hour.

The second stage didn't live up to Ozfest's past. Often, it turns out to be more fun than the main stage in presenting up-and-coming bands, eager to make a name for themselves and move on to metal superstardom.

This year, with the oppressive heat and an iffy sound system, the second stage was almost a chore to sit through.

Only Hatebreed was fully able to rise above the problems.

The reigning kings of hardcore lashed out furiously but weren't stingy with great hooks. Singer Jamey Jasta, who hosts "Headbanger's Ball" on MTV2, owned the audience with his confidence and empowering, positive lyrics.

Hurt most by the circumstances was Mondo Generator. The artsy band checked in with an ambitious set of hard-edged psychedelia, featuring many well-crafted songs that, sadly, had difficulty keeping the audience's attention.

Most of the rest of the second stages were in the death metal/black metal mold — music that's light on melody and nearly punishing in its heaviness and harshness.

A good portion of the music was little more than sonic, screechy whirlpools of guitar riffs, head-crushing percussion and scant melody. Other bands showed some ambition but had limited results.

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY & NOTICE OF RECIRCULATION OF DRAFT PROGRAM ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT (EIR) FOR THE GENERAL PLAN 2025 PROGRAM FOR THE CITY OF RIVERSIDE, CALIFORNIA (SCH NO. 2004021108)

PROJECT DESCRIPTION: In November 2004, the City of Riverside circulated a Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) for the General Plan, updates to the Zoning Code and Subdivision Code, the Magnolia Avenue Specific Plan, and the Citywide Design and Sign Guidelines. In the process of reviewing the comments received on the previously circulated DEIR, the City determined to recirculate the DEIR pursuant to Section 15088.5 of the California Environmental Quality Act Guidelines. This recirculated EIR includes all of the changes to the documents recommended by the City Council at the March 21, 2006 City Council hearing, updated information where available, information provided in response to comments and an amendment to the Noise Code for consistency with the proposed Noise Element and State regulations.

The General Plan 2025 Program includes the adoption and implementation of the following programmatic documents:

1. Comprehensive update of the City of Riverside General Plan.
2. Comprehensive update of the City of Riverside Zoning Code (Title 19 of the Riverside Municipal Code of the City of Riverside) including rezoning of properties to reflect new zone names and to respond to General Plan land use designation changes in focus areas City-wide.
3. Comprehensive update of the City of Riverside Subdivision Code (Title 18 of the Riverside Municipal Code of the City of Riverside).
4. Amendment to the Noise Code (Title 7 of the Riverside Municipal Code of the City of Riverside).
5. Adoption of the Magnolia Avenue Specific Plan.
6. Adoption of the Citywide Design Guidelines and Sign Guidelines.

NOTE: Pursuant to State CEQA Guidelines Section 15088.5 (f) (1) - (3) new comments may only be submitted on the recirculated Program EIR. It should also be noted that this project has been approved by the Airport Land Use Commission (ALUC). In addition, Tribal and Military Consultations have been conducted.

PROJECT LOCATION: The City of Riverside is located in western Riverside County and is bounded on the north by the unincorporated Riverside County communities of Rubidoux and Jurupa and the Cities of Colton and Rialto (San Bernardino County), on the east by Riverside County and the City of Moreno Valley, to the south by unincorporated Riverside County and to the west by the Riverside County and the Cities of Norco and Corona.

The Project Planning Area consists of the corporate boundaries of the City of Riverside and the City's Northern and Southern Spheres of Influence. The existing City corporate boundaries include approximately 51,310 gross acres as of December 2006. The Northern Sphere of Influence encompasses lands from the existing City limits to the San Bernardino County line and east to the Box Springs Mountain Regional Park and includes the communities of Highgrove. This area is approximately 4,088 gross acres. The Southern Sphere of Influence extends from the City's southern border to the crest of the Cajalco Ridge, just south of Cajalco Road. The area includes the communities of El Sobrante, Glen Valley, Woodcrest, and limited portions of Gavilan Hills and Lake Mathews and is approximately 36,826 gross acres. During 2006, the Riverside Local Agency Formation Commission conducted a review of the City's Sphere of Influence and affirmed the boundaries identified above.

SIGNIFICANT EFFECTS: The recirculated draft Program EIR analyzed the potential impacts of the proposed project related to aesthetics, agricultural resources, air quality, biological resources, cultural and paleontological resources, geology and soils, hazards and hazardous materials, hydrology and water quality, land use planning, mineral resources, noise, population and housing, public services, recreation, transportation and utilities and service systems. All potential significant impacts could be mitigated to less than significant levels through mitigation identified in the Draft Program EIR, except for those related to agricultural resources, air quality, hydrology and water quality, noise, population and housing, recreation and transportation.

HAZARDOUS WASTE SITES: Pursuant to Section 15087.06 of the Guidelines for California Environmental Quality Act the City acknowledges the presence of hazardous waste sites within the planning area reviewed by this Draft Program EIR.

PUBLIC HEARINGS: The City of Riverside will hold a formal public hearing with the City Council on the General Plan 2025 Program and the recirculated Program Environmental Impact Report, in the late fall or early winter. Notice of the public hearing will be mailed to anyone requesting to be placed on the mailing list.
