

Frank Hauptmann, CPRC Manager, comes to the Community Police Review Commission a seasoned professional with exposure and expertise in policing for 35 years. Mr. Hauptmann has been employed by the Glendale and Garden Grove Police Departments in Southern California. In his most recent position as Chief of Police for the former Maywood / Cudahy Police Department, he became a “change agent” in reforming the Department by developing new policies, practices and procedures. In addition, he restored public confidence and trust in the Police Department through enhancing community relations and outreach. His relevant expertise includes evaluating accountability processes, managing and directing staff, community policing strategies, budgeting, customer service, criminal investigations, internal investigations, developing policy and procedure, and terrorism threat assessments.

Mr. Hauptmann also served 15 years in the military reserves with the U.S. Naval Intelligence Command, possessing a Department of Justice Top Secret clearance and having worldwide intelligence experience in this position. Also in his capacity as a reservist, he spent 10 years as a federal credentialed agent with the U.S. Defense Intelligence Agency.

Mr. Hauptmann is currently an adjunct instructor in the Advanced Officer Training Program at California State University Long Beach. He has taught Internal Affairs Investigation in this program for the past 16 years, training over 3,000 police supervisors and managers throughout the State of California. He has also taught courses in criminal justice at local colleges. As a police executive, he attended the prestigious West Point Leadership Command Program at the Los Angeles Police Department, the Law Enforcement Executive Development course at the FBI National Academy in Quantico, Virginia, and another in San Francisco.

Mr. Hauptmann has lived in the Corona – Norco area for over 30 years and is familiar with the Inland Empire culture. He looks forward to using his experience, training, and education in serving the community of Riverside.

In 2011, Mr. Hauptmann attended the following courses in order to enhance his skills as the CPRC Manager: 1) Instructor Certification – Excited Delirium & Sudden In-Custody Deaths, Institute for the Prevention of In-Custody Deaths, Inc. 2) Use of Force – Deadly Force Certified Analyst, Force Science Institute, University of Minnesota 3) Auditing Police Performance, Cal State University, Long Beach 4) National Association of Citizen Oversight of Law Enforcement, Annual Conference, New Orleans.
