

City of Riverside Human Resources Department

A trainee classification has been established in which incumbents can serve in a training capacity and learn to perform the duties as defined in the regular job classification. Please click here for information regarding this job description.