AN OLD-STYLE INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION ICE CREAM SOCIAL JUNE 26, 2011

FREE!

All ages will enjoy this free event that features ice cream, homemade lemonade, and musical entertainment. Guests have the opportunity to play authentic Victorian games, learn how old-fashioned hand cranked ice cream is made, and watch a special patriotic program by the Sons of the American Revolution in revolutionary-war era costumes.

Independence Day in Victorian Riverside was an occasion for Sousa Marches, patriotic speeches, bunting on trees & buildings, picnics, fireworks, & ice cream socials. During the summer of 1891, while this house was being built, downtown's Kandy Kitchen sold six flavors of ice cream: vanilla, lemon, strawberry, chocolate, pineapple, & coffee. That 4th of July, Robert Bettner, Catharine's son, & Frank Miller, founder of the Mission Inn, served on the young City's celebration program committee.
