Riverside's Third Annual Restaurant Week Starts Today

Enjoy 10 days of dining across the City June 19-28!

RIVERSIDE, Calif. – The third annual Riverside Restaurant Week kicks off today with 84 restaurants participating across the city, providing a unique opportunity to showcase Riverside and its great dining choices for residents and visitors.

Many of the restaurants featured are locally owned and operated. Supporting these local business contributes to the growth and development of the City of Riverside.

“Riverside has been blessed with many quality restaurants, but what I really like about Restaurant Week is the opportunity to support local business owners,” Mayor Rusty Bailey said. “The foodie in me can't wait to take my family and try some of the featured menu items.”

This year's event promises unique offerings like a glazed donut Angus burger with orange monkey sauce, Swiss cheese and bacon from American-style restaurant ProAbition in downtown Riverside.

Restaurant goers can also visit a Riverside favorite, Anchos Southwest Grill & Bar, which is offering a prix fixe meal for $42 featuring a mesquite grilled platter for two including: fajitas, half rack of ribs, three diablo shrimp, and three alambre shrimp. Plus, you'll get chips, salsa, rice, beans, pico de gallo, and guacamole! Don't forget the fresh homemade tortillas that will accompany the main entree.

Riverside Restaurant Week isn't limited to sit-down restaurants. From an early morning coffee and pastry stop, to lunch with a colleague, drinks after work, date night or a little family fun – Riverside Restaurant Week has something to offer each meal of the day.
