Riverside Man Injured in Shooting

Riverside, CA -- On Thursday November 15, 2007 at approximately 3:44 p.m., Riverside police officers responded to a 911 call of a shooting that just occurred in the 10100-block of Gould Street. Upon arrival, officers located a 23-year-old Riverside man who sustained a single gunshot wound to his lower torso. Medical aid personnel transported him to a local hospital where he was treated for the non-life threatening injury.

Witnesses reported seeing a passenger exit a vehicle, walk toward the victim, and fire at least one round from a firearm. Investigators are not releasing further details at this time.

Officers closed a section of Gould Street to vehicular and pedestrian traffic for approximately 3 hours as they canvassed the neighborhood for witnesses and processed the crime scene.

Anyone with information related to this incident is urged to call Riverside Police Detective Mike Stamps at 951-353-7100.
