Riverside Police Launch Crime Videos on Department's Website and Build on Community Partnership

Riverside, CA – The Riverside Police Department has taken another step to enhance the police-community partnership in Riverside. Members of the public can now view actual crime videos by accessing a YouTube link on the department's website. The videos are comprised of actual recordings depicting yet unknown suspects involved in criminal acts. The department is excited about this new venue for showcasing recent crimes in which the public's assistance in identifying suspects will be a tremendous benefit.

The YouTube link launches the crime videos webpage, which includes a synopsis of each incident, date and location of occurrence, case number, and the name of the detective handling the investigation. The website also provides the public with the police department's non-emergency phone number, (951) 787-7911, for providing assistance and information related to the crime videos. Callers can remain anonymous if they desire and are not required to reveal their identity in order to provide information.

The public can access the Riverside Police Department's website at <http://www.rpdonline.org>, and then simply click on the "YouTube Crime Videos" link, or they can launch directly at <http://www.youtube.com/rpdcrimevideos>.
